

Discover Georgian Fashion at Buckingham Palace with A4D

Join our free programme for people with early-stage dementia or mild cognitive impairment and their companions.

This fantastic 6-week programme is a chance for participants to explore the brilliant new Georgian Fashion Exhibition at the Queen's Gallery, situated in Buckingham Palace.

The sessions will involve a tour around the collection, focusing on a new theme each week led by one of the Galleries top guides. This will be followed by a creative textile workshop facilitated by the wonderful artist Alice Burnhope.

The programme is FREE of charge, materials and light refreshments are all included.

Need any more persuading to join?

- Enjoy weekly creativity
- Make new social connections
- Develop new skills
- Combat memory worries

When:

Every Tuesday, June 6 - July 11
11:00am - 1pm

Where:

The Queen's Gallery, Buckingham
Palace, SW1A 1AA

To register contact:

emily@arts4dementia.org.uk

020 3633 5401

www.arts4dementia.org.uk